A nightingale, that all day long
Had cheered the village with his song,
Began to feel as well he might,
The keen demands of appetite;
When, looking eagerly around,
He spied far off, upon the ground,

A something shining in the dark,
And knew the glow-worm by his spark;
So, stooping down from hawthorn top,
He thought to put him in his crop,
The worm, aware of his intent,
Harangued him thus, right eloquent-
"Did you admire my lamp", quoth he,
"As much as I your minstrelsy.
You would abhor to do me wrong,
As much as I to spoil your song:
For 'twas the self-same power divine,
Taught you to sing, and me to shine;
That you with music, I with light,
Might beautify and cheer the night.
" The songster heard his short oration,
And warbling out his approbation
Released him, as my story tells,
And found a supper somewhere else.
