Q1A) Read the passage given:

We must do all we can to stop conflicts and civil war. Most conflicts happen in poor countries, especially which are badly governed or where power and wealth are not distributed fairly between different tribal or religious groups. So the best way to check fighting is to make a political arrangement in which all groups have their representatives. The need is to ensure human rights and economic development of all. The next fundamental freedom is one that is not mentioned in the UN charter. In 1945, the leaders could not imagine that such a situation would arise. That is the freedom of future generations to live on this planet. Even now many of us have not understood its importance. We are using up the limited resources for our present use. We are over using and even wasting them. We are, in fact, robbing our children of their right to live. We must preserve our forests, fisheries and wildlife. All of these are collapsing because of our own habit of consuming or destroying them.

Answer the following questions

1. Why do most conflicts happen in poor countries?
2. What is the best way to check conflicts?
3. What is meant by 'the freedom of future generations to live'?
4. How are we robbing our children of their basic right?

There's a lot of joy in living,
If we face life with a smile,
Take time to do some kindness,
And go to the second mile.
For the greatest joy is giving,
And it all comes back to you
When you add a little sunshine
To all you say and do.
Before the day has ended
Try to do some worthwhile thing,
Help to ease another's burden
And make a sad heart sing.
You will find each new tomorrow
Will be happy from the start
If you only will remember,
Keep a smile within your heart!

Though the house and grounds belonged to my grandparents, the magnificent old banyan tree was mine-chieflly because Grandfather, at sixty-five, could no longer climb it.

Its spreading branches, which hung to the ground and took root again, forming a number of twisting passages, gave me endless pleasure. Among them were squirrels and snails and butterflies. The tree was older than the house, older than Grandfather, as old as Dehra Dun itself. I could hide myself in its branches, behind thick green leaves, and spy on the world below.

My first friend was a small grey squirrel. Arching his back and sniffing into the air, he seemed at first to resent my invasion of his privacy. But when he found that I did not arm myself with catapult or air gun, he became friendly, and when I started bringing him pieces of cake and biscuit he grew quite bold and was soon taking morsels from hand. Before long, he was delving into my pockets and helping himself to whatever he could find.

Answer the following questions

- 1.The speaker of the passage is a /an
- 2.Who is the speaker of the Banyan tree?
- 3.The speaker 's Grandfather was at that time
